Alongside housing quality improvement, and an increase in medium density housing in Wellington (which I strongly support) there also needs to be a focus on green space and outdoor play areas for the growing proportion of kids growing up in apartments. These could be required as part of the design in new developments, and WCC could put 'pocket parks' on otherwise unused Council land.

Congrats WCC for taking steps towards a sustainable transport system. Making cycling and public transport safer and more convenient will improve health (by increasing physical activity), reduce congestion, and make Wellington a more livable city. Please keep equity front of mind, and make sure changes you introduce don't further disadvantage vulnerable citizens (e.g. low income people, children, the elderly and people with disabilities).

Comments:

Some years ago the Council announced Wellington was going to become a Child Friendly City. I would like to see this as a WCC priority, and the needs of children and young people explicitly acknowledged in the LTP.

My pet peeve is that the council does not clean the road gutters and storm water system enough and that is why some areas flood. Not a problem for me as I live on top of a hill.

I strongly oppose many of these projects as I don't believe that Council consults with Wellington residents with transparency and honesty, and truly represents the views of the residents of Wellington. Until this is resolved I do not believe that any work should proceed.

Mt Vic tunnel, Terrace tunnel, Basin Reserve round about, and 4 lanes from the airport need to be the number one priority, the congestion in these areas is unacceptable and work needs to start to resolve the issues ASAP (yesterday). Wellington needs a runway extension and 4 lanes from the airport onto the motorway so get on with it. Stop letting Air NZ block the runway because they don't want competition and get on with making Wellington decent. It took 30 years for transmission gully, don't make Wellingtonians wait any longer for what we NEED!

Get on with the Movie Museum and Convention Centre, it should nearly be built by now. Peter Jackson is a great Wellingtonian, start treating him that way and work with him to get this done ASAP.

Fix transport before anything else. Number one priority needs to be 4 lanes from the airport to the motorway.

Other priorities

Is there anything else you think WCC should be prioritising over the next 10 years?

Comments:

Fix transport before anything else. Number one priority needs to be 4 lanes from the airport to the motorway. Number 2 priority needs to be extending the runway so Wellington can be opened up to the world and become the destination it should be.

Often there are only small barriers to people using their bicycles, such as flat tires or lack of knowledge about bike maintenance and safety. I would love to see a free service where WCC offers free replacement inner tubes, bike maintenance/safety courses, free fluoro safety vests and more. Please feel free to contact me about this on 0273445432. Thanks!

i think wellington should have as less cars as possible unless you don't have a choice because cars pollute the earth and that makes global warming.

Comments:

Wellington is not a "GOTO" City. If you ask a tourist why would they want to go to Wellington - they more than likely will be unable to give any reason to come here. We have a reputation for bad weather and when most people get on or off the Picton ferry, they simply leave - just watch the camper vans getting on and off the ferrys. Wellington does not even have its own motorcamp or a place for camper vans (who are tourists) to stay !!!We need an international airport like Auckland and Christchurch. As a city we will struggle until this is achieved. We are the Capital City aren't we !!! Then why is it if you want to trave to most international cities you have to goto Auckland first - Auckland will always be No1 until we start making changes here and aim to be NZ's best city.We need to attract more investors and create new ideas on how to make Wellington a "GOTO" place. We need to make Wellington a place where people want to live and tourists want to come and stay. Some suggestions -- We urgently need an International Airport- We need a Casino - As an example of attracting overseas tourists - we must be the only Capital city in the world without a Casino and in my opinion we are backward thinking in this area and this way of thinking needs to change.- We need people to be proactive and encourage growth and creativity. - We have to stop listening to all the politically correct people who really have no vision and never will want to grow this city.- We need to change the old analogy of Wellington being the countries "Cultural City" (who are we trying to fool !!!) why don't we aim to the the countries - financial centre- entertainment centre- holiday/ funpark centre - camping /tramping centre- water sports entertainment centre- NZ's biggest conference centre- NZ's Las Vegas- NZ's Silicon ValleyWhat are we doing right now to attract big business to Wellington ?? instead of all the big business moving to Auckland. All we seem to hear about is roads, water and getting rid of pests !!!John Key our own Prime Minister said "Wellington is dying" - well lets change this.Make Wellington the "GOTO" City of New Zealand and jobs, growth, tourists will come.

Parking is already very expensive in the city. I think the council will just raise parking prices but not improve public transport. So this will just raise the cost of living, may reduce visitor and shopping in town and make visiting businesses in town more difficult. Cities overseas have expensive parking in the cbd but have multiple public transport options. I take public transport to work - i cant bike to work because its too dangerous and the bus is often full and drives straight past me at the bus stop. Also a modern tram would be good from airport and to key city sites. Many cities have trams but it feels like we will never have anything efficient and handy.

I think the transport, infrastructure and housing need to be a priority this is just extra unnecessary stuff we have enough of already stop wasting money on it. Do not strengthen or restore old buildings unless it's less expensive than the alternative it's a waste of our money and we could use some new building in the mix. ie 800k vs 8million for the basin stand is disgusting waste of money

I think that transport should be further subsidised to encourage more people using it. This will hopefully assist with the congestion problems faced by Wellington by reducing traffic on the roads.

Special Housing Vehicle (Urban Development Agency) - having an active approach should be something you do every day - using common sense - it does not need a costly new Agency to muck around. The rental WOF is just more compliance and paperwork - the problem you are trying to fix is a group of bad landlords. This approach is a broad stroke that will cost all landlords more money and increase rents. do not penalise everyone for the behavior of a small group

Cars are not evil - sometimes you need them to carry heavy objects or indeed where there may be 4 or more passengers - a family perhaps - weekend free parking allows people to come in to the city and use the facilities, beaches, cafes etc and keeps the CDB moving. Paying is just revenue gathering - there has been a drastic reduction in car parks in the inner city and we already have high use of public transport - give something back WCC - we pay for everything already - time to care about your people. Let's get value out of your existing transport system before trying to change to light rail - this is a major investment and probably one Wellington cannot afford with such a small population - be careful this could be a costly white elephant!

Focus on the infrastructure and keeping the water, sewerage etc all working really well before you spend money on the fun stuff - we don't have money for everything unless you keep raising rates - they are too high already. Do the basics well and encourage the private sector to come back to the city and drive the arts and cultural programme.

Other priorities

Is there anything else you think WCC should be prioritising over the next 10 years?

Comments:

Basic maintenance and infrastructure to keep wellington strong and growing. Priorities bringing private industry back to Wellington and growing the population so we can afford better transport and other facilities in the future.Reduce rates and fund within the current programme - every year rates go up - sadly without a bigger population Wellington cannot afford all of this spending - find ways to work in partnership with private groups/industry to progress new initiatives. The rate payer in not a bank.

Comments:

I want more spent on transport but in the right places. Stop making roads more dangerous by putting in cycleways that are not being used in increased numbers. Paint the Parade back. Rates have risen way too fast. It is fine to invest in long term projects but you need to prioritise better because the cost on families is too high. I want it to be possible to get from the airport to the Terrace Tunnel without traffic lights (excluding Kilbirnie Park) and with two lanes.

It is a key task of the council to maintain and provide sufficient basic services with capacity for ratepayers. Much of our infrastructure has been ignored for a long time so we now need to pay to bring these up to scratch. This will need to be at the cost of the nice to have projects. Waste minimisation can be done in more practical ways than setting goals and partnerships. We need to lead in recycling at the tip face. Storm clean up should be managed by council staff, not contractors. Council should reassess its contracting out of services and have more in house capacity.

The best way for council to promote housing in the city is by making consenting easier. The District Plan has too many obstacles for people to overcome and many of its requirements are out of date for modern living. Freeing up the district plan would create more housing than many of the big projects suggested above.

The focus on cycling infrastructure at the cost of all else is poor. The city needs to address roading choke points and solve them quickly.

Planning for growth via the district plan should be business as normal for the council and not a special budget item. What are planners for? Given other restraints on budget, this is not the time for signature projects. We need to fix the basics first.

Strengthening projects need to be undertaken within a tight budgetary controls. The budget for the town hall is excessive and should be at least halved.

Comments:

The council needs to be more customer focused - particularly in dealing with consents. Basic services of stormwater, sewerage and water supply need to be sorted first. Council also needs to show and provide leadership for resolving roading and transport issues. Not just talking about impractical ideas like cycleways and light rail but build tunnels and extending the motorway to the airport.

It's all very well asking a lot of questions about what people want. people typically support most of the questions asked due to the way they are worded. However, as Council has neglected to add details such as the costs of each project to the basic question your not going to get a true representation of people thoughts. In my view all projects should be prioritised in such a way that any rates increase is in line with inflation. Its about time WCC and the majority of other Councils started living within their means and not simply using rate payers as a bank. For example development contributions and rates have been paid towards sewer and stormwater maintenance for years. It is therefor somewhat incomprehensible that Council would need to increase rates to cover the costs of basic improvements to these networks. These improvements should be funded by the rates we already pay. Any rates increase above inflation makes me and my family less well off. Impacts on our ability to pay for other costs such as school, sports, medical expenses. Councils decision makers need to carefully consider this before deciding on any rates increase.

Please no fees for in the city. We cant take the bus as with 4 kids too expensive and with buggy for baby hard to get on and off and juggle baby n other kids. Bus stop isnt near house so a 2hr trip into city turns into 4+ which isnt best with napping children. We will then drive to the malls and spend our dollar on big chain stores instead on small businesses.

I walk, cycle, skateboard, motorcycle and drive a car around the city. If everyone varied their form of transport there would be much less congestion. Prioritise walking and cycling pedestrians first, followed by (free) ample motorcycle car parking (which there is already alot) to encourage smaller forms of transport around the city, work to remove cars from the centre of the city as much as possible and build a monorail! See the following clip for monorail example: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ZDOI0cq6GZM>

Comments:

Transport is a big issue for Wellington. Being a culdesac type city it needs the type of transport that can effortlessly transport humans into and out of the city from Lower Hutt and Porirua. Despite the risk of a big earthquake happening I think it's worth investing in a loop type monorail to link from Wellington station, the Airport and the Hospital. I'm under no illusion this will cost alot but in the long term this will likely reduce emissions from buses and cars and offer easy and reliable transport throughout Wellington city.

I don't feel like the amount of energy going into encouraging people to cycle to work and to the city is realistic or valuable. There are massive hills, wicked wind, rain, and I'm not an athlete. Happy to have cyclists and an appropriate amount of infrastructure for them but this is not a mode of transport for everyone and I think money is better spent on other transport options.

We need more public transport options other than Bike lanes, not all people want to or can cycle to work or to get their shopping etc. We need light rail from train station, airport to hospital. We need a second Mount Vic and Terrace tunnels. We need a second Arras type tunnel on Vivian street to unclog Tory and Taranaki Streets. To only have bike lanes and a few bus enhancements in the next 10 years is simply not good enough.

we need more specific focus on the effects of climate change. sea walls for example are too short-term so instead of spending money on them we need to think long term more and move things away from low lying areas. building up local food supplies is also important.

bring back carless days or something to prize people out of their cars. Improve public transport in low social areas. While I respect that the WCC and WRC are helping to improve cycle lanes and tracks from the suburbs to the city, I would like to have the councils to improve footpaths for those who choose to run or walk to town as their choice of transport.

I don't support the shelley upgrades unless considerable upgrades are made to roads between Miramar and the city. Second tunnel!!!!!! Traffic trying to get in and out of Miramar is shocking at the moment and will only get worse with housing developments

I cannot believe we are wasting so much money on cycle ways. Wellington winds makes cycling unsafe and difficult. Cycling is not something a busy working family with kids at different schools can easily manage. I think you need your heads read for the wastage that has occurred so far. Focus should be more on a second mt vic tunnel, a basin reserve traffic solution and easier car access to the city with more parking options. Stop mucking around trying to please the noisy minority. Also, stop giving the heritage building advocates so much powers so we can move forward with proper traffic solutions.

Care needs to be taken on how far resilience measures are taken. This could be open ended leading to excessive cost and financial burden.Reduction in waste to landfill must be accompanied by a waste recycling and disposal option otherwise we will see more illegal dumping and pollution. Illegal dumping must also be fought with big penalties inc those caught made to clean up the area.

There needs to be clear high density areas that include apartments, town houses and smaller houses. There are many examples of community-focussed medium and even high density housing that encourages good living practices. There needs to be an avoidance of sprawl and loss of green space.

A proper analysis of weekend parking fees to offset parking revenue losses needs to be had. Weekend parking fees would be unlikely to encourage the use of public and active modes of transport; people will just go elsewhere.

Any plans for growth need to take into account the power developers have in stymieing Council plans. Council need to ensure that the interests of developers does not counter the city-wide plans including those of infrastructure supply and waste management. Already we are seeing buildings along ridgelines and reduction of greenspace, buildings and development that negatively affects others amenity and poor building practices leading to safety and environmental issues.

The Council needs to protect our Harbour from pollution and poor building practices along its edge whilst concurrently looking at ways to allow greater public use. The Council also needs to work with the commercial Port to ensure we maintain and grow the viability of the Port areas.

I am not sure about this, as I think there's a cross over with the role & services provided by central government; but I support Wellingtonians looking after our people and building better communities & also stepping in to help vulnerable people when the system fails. Maybe central government could contribute funds to the council to deliver these services?

Need an area of work to support the growth of electric vehicles; what about a decent campervan park; and lets see a resolution to the biggest central city transport issue - congestion around the Basin Reserve & Mt Vic tunnel (impeding access to airport, hospital, eastern & southern residents, ASB Arena and major sports venues)

These are nice ideas to help support tourism / short stay visits (benefiting local accomodation & hospitality providers). But what about supporting other local businesses & companies to grow the local economy and develop smart skills? Eg IT, movie industry, innovative entrepreneurial start ups, niche education, retail. I think land & rent is a huge cost for small businesses & retailers esp in the central city - can the council do anything more in this space eg around developing business hubs and smart businesses based in suburban communities?

Investment in cycling (and others sustainable / alternatives to cars) is critical to Wellington. I've lived and cycle in Central London daily and feel Wellington is far less safe for cyclists. Each week I am verbally abused by motorists and am routinely almost hit by cars. The way drivers behave is a world away from the modern, friendly and destination city we want wellington to be. (Please note I'm a cyclist, many others, who adheres to the road rules but feels threatened day in day out)

Please speed up the introduction of electric buses and more ev charging infrastructure. The stink of diesel bus fumes in the cbd is revolting and dangerous to public health, especially during rush hour when there are multiple buses loading at the bus stops. I know we're getting 10 electric buses but we can do so much more. There is a Chinese city that has only electric buses. 16,000 of them! Imagine the personal and environmental benefits of that to our brilliant city.

Comments:

Wellington could be a world leader in the move to electric transportation. We already have electric trains, why not more electric buses and cars? The change this would bring to the CBD in particular would be startling and make Wellington the envy of the world. The roading around the Basin Reserve needs urgent improvement. Getting to the airport is a traffic lottery, and getting to kids sports at ASB and Hataitai courts on Saturdays is a total pain. I would hate to live in the eastern suburbs and deal with this every day. I strongly support improving earthquake resilience for infrastructure and strengthening key buildings. The council should be tougher on property owners who delay strengthening their buildings. This is an obvious safety issue for all occupants and nearby pedestrians and there has now been more than enough time for these owners to sort out the problem. If they can't afford the costs they should be forced to sell or demolish the building. Their economic interests should not prevail over public safety.

Firstly SHA's. This has already been misused for Shelley Bay and therefore I am dubious as to whether it will be used for those most in need as opposed to helping favourite property developer mates. Secondly assisting owners of commercial buildings is OK as long as this does not take the form of any financial investment, or the waiving of financial obligations from said owners. They are operating in a free market and are driven purely by profit. The rate/tax payer should not be assisting them to make even more money. Thirdly Rental WF's. These are pointless and toothless. There is no regularity mechanism to force bad owners to bring their properties up to WOF condition, and so far it seems some good owners and properties have failed the inspection. Nice PR stunt, but unless you give it some teeth, absolutely pointless.

Your transport policy is completely flawed because it is based on LGWM which is essentially the LTA's drive to build more roads (which is what they do). There is basically only a cursory admission and reference that public transport other than road driven vehicles, exists. Most Wellingtonians walk, bike and take the bus or train. Any future plan that omits rail - light or heavy - is inherently flawed. And now we find out that LTA has been secretly canvassing for a flyover option for the Basin Reserve. Admit it. This whole process is politicised and captured by the roading lobby. How many years have we wasted on this and previous flawed consultations? We now have a redesigned bus system for greater Wellington to assist the implementation of Bus Rapid Transit (thanks Steven Joyce) and the GWRC have been willing partners in implementing this and removing the trolley bus fleet from service. Between the three of you - WCC, GWRC & LGWM - you will ruin this city and turn it into a polluted heaving mess like Auckland. Well done. Here's to another decade of talking and doing nothing. Re the airport runway extension. There isn't even a credible business case for this let alone a viable environmental case. Just nuts. The Council's blind support of this - your CEO didn't even bother to do independent due diligence, but just accepted the nonsense provided by the airport. He didn't even leave a paper trail! All verbal. What does that tell you about the integrity of the CEO, the council and the process for this project? I do not support this at all.

The Movie Museum / Conference Centre is a ridiculous proposal. The business case for this does not stack up. It simply is not credible and we could utilise existing facilities better to cater for the alleged large demand for and conference centre and resulting conferences in Wellington. To be honest we would be competing with every other major city in the Pacific Rim, so wasting this amount of money on a facility that will seldom be utilised fully is ridiculous. Secondly the whole process was dubious and lacked transparency and integrity. You have done yet another closed door deal with your developer mates and hidden this from the public. God knows what you offered Peter Jackson! But the fact that we will not see any movement at all for at least 12 more months speaks volumes about how poor and how dodgy this whole deal is. A big no to this white elephant. And a big no to Peter's movie museum. Let him build his own and give something back to his home city. Or is he not that civic minded?

We have always been the Capital of the Arts. Our recent demise can be put down to WREDA which has been an abject failure and an abject waste of millions of dollars of rate payers money. The fact that WREDA and their incompetent management remain, tempers my support for anything you do in this field. And this is from someone who has worked in this area for decades....including WCC pre WREDA days. We did it better and cheaper than that for sure! Disestablish WREDA, bring everything back in house and stop wasting our money.

I would like to see a third option so we are not forced into choosing the status quo OR your outrageous debt fuelled and ill conceived plans. There must be a more tighter focussed middle way that does not plunge the city into generations of debt. I would also like to see you consider selling the WCC stake in the airport to cover the costs of what you propose to do in the draft 10 year plan.

I love Wellington because it is such a green, environmentally friendly city. We have the potential to do so much more to make it a world leader in sustainability. Wellington could be predator free with the support of councils putting money into community led action especially through schools. Predator control should include programmes such as the 'Clip and Chip' scheme to reduce the number of cats per household in Wellington. The harbour recently went plastic straw free, I believe the council should put more money into minimising plastic/waste use in Wellington which will reduce the pressure on the Southern Landfill. I also think it is important that people pay a per unit fee for water as an incentive to be more careful with their water wastage. The council has a fantastic programme to plant trees on road reserves. Innovations like this increase the number of trees in our city, connect people to nature and give residents a sense of value for their environment. Investment in tree planting is investment in erosion control which is a major impact of climate change. We should start to think about moving houses away from the coast instead of spending millions of dollars on sea walls.

It is important that Wellington City Council uses the building which are sitting empty such as the huge abandoned university halls of residence which at the end of Ghuznee street and the Terrace. Wellington is very geographically challenged so it is important to use all space available. Programmes that teach the vulnerable how to build tiny houses for emergency shelter could be an excellent way to increase skills and quick affordable houses for those in need.

Public transport needs to be more reliable and accessible if more people are going to use it. There should be a system where people can take multiple bus journeys on one snapper ticket to avoid huge fares to get to difficult parts of the city. Train and bus fares should be reduced. Parking buildings and park and ride systems could be an excellent way to mitigate congestion and give cyclists more room. Bus stops should be completely sheltered instead of having a gap at the bottom. Light rail should and electric buses should be a major investment. There should be more pedestrian/cycle only streets. Currently cycling often feels dangerous, there is no space on the road and it is illegal to cycle on the pavement.

Art and culture is the draw card for Wellington. I don't believe that public money needs to be spent on a movie museum, the zoo or Kiwi Quarry. I believe the arts is where we can draw a stronger economy into Wellington. There are thousands of creative innovate people in Wellington. It is better to resource these people and support our small creative enterprises.

I believe subsidies for home improvements, such as insulation, etc. should not be limited to investment properties. People who own investment properties get their insulation subsidised while people who struggle to pay the mortgage of their own homes cannot afford to get the necessary insulation.

Make public transport options more reliable and affordable. Without doing so, people will continue to drive everywhere. As it stands, every bus is at least 10 minutes late and sometimes is even cancelled at the most inconvenient times. There's no way more people are going to opt for the bus if they don't feel they can get where they need to be on time.

I hope that our city is looking forward 20-30 years to consider the needs and opportunities for how the city and population will need and want to live and move in the future. Not looking into the past and spending money to solve problems that exist now that have been created by changes in how people have lived, worked and moved over the last 30-60 or even 100 years. We must look to the future to be ahead.

All of the above surveys have no mention concerning the additional cost of expanding resilience and environment projects. Hence most submitters are likely to tick that they support most initiatives unaware that by doing so they inadvertently also support a significant rise in rates well in excess of inflation.

The 10 year plan is full of proposed expansion of various Council activities. Yet buried on page 55 is a statement that Council Financial Strategy is to ensure affordable rates. The current inflation rate is 2.2% yet Council proposes to increase residential rates by at least double this figure. If weekend parking is not approved the rates increase becomes over 7%. With many retired residents I believe Council should not increase rates by more than 3%.

While I support most of the proposals above, the value and success of any of the proposed work is conditional on the best planning and design advise. Expert and EXPERIENCED input is essential. Senior design practices should be brought into brainstorming conversations and workshops. Waitangi Park is such a great example of of this public/private collaboration. This sort of collaboration on housing seems critical. Some of the blocks of developer-lead housing, particularly student accomodation, offer bare minimum amenity to the users, and generally nothing to the city or community. Recent work of Maurice Clark provides examples of how well things can be done.The inner city has a limit in terms of intensification. Too much squeezes out all the things - the diversity - that amount to its charm. This limit should be recognised and understood, and equal attention be given to residential densification around suburban commercial centres

Regarding the inter-city "competition" described for the national cultural crown, it seems counterproductive to cling to this competitive model. Auckland is always going to be nipping at our heels... wouldn't it be more useful to at some levels to negotiate with them, rather than duplicate and compete in such a small market.

Wellington transport deserves a major overhaul to continue the move away from cars and parking as priorities. In particular a separated cycleway that would allow for a more acceptable ride down from Newtown to the city and linking up with the Island Bay Cycleway would be a significant move for the way Wellingtonians get themselves around. WCC should take on the challenge of providing a safe cycling option between all major centres in the city and I think 10 years is too long a time frame to propose for doing this.

Wellington's weather and geography do not fit with cycling as a rational and serious means of commuting. Wellington does not have wide flat roads with few intersections ideal for cycling. Most cycle journeys in Wellington are to and from cycling mountain bike tracks (not commuting). Recreational cycling tracks should be the focus of cycling policy. In regards to commuter cycling best policy practice would be for efficiency and economy with a view for growth. On this basis combine generally low use of suburban footpaths and low numbers of cycle commuters by creating cycle lanes on existing footpaths and mandating their use.

The proposed convention centre is inadequate and poorly located. A larger centre is needed for international conventions. Either build next door to and leverage existing facilities at Tepapa (eg theatres) or combine proposed centre with an entertainment arena next to the railway station. Also the convention centre in combination with the movie museum is bizarre with no apparent synergies. They need to be separated.

Regarding arts - keep funding at existing levels. Te Whare Hōra: should be privately funded as it is outside the remit of a city council

Other priorities

Is there anything else you think WCC should be prioritising over the next 10 years?

Comments:

Reduce the scope of the council area of considerations to infrastructure and do significantly better to source private funding for of other areas such as housing, the arts, and sports. Do better to leverage off existing resources and set out clear long term transparent plans and projects (not goals) for infrastructure and other areas. Enhance democracy and council transparency by creating an active online resource setting out why and who is lobbying the Council. Include conflicts of interest of Councillors and senior Council staff. The airport runway needs to be extended. We do need pandas or a Chinese garden on the waterfront. Don't be a soft touch for the soft diplomacy of a hard line authoritarian regime.

I am unsure about the proposal for SHAs where the consent process would be sped up. This sounds like there would be less opportunity for public input on the RMA process and less time for detailed consideration of the potential impacts. I strongly support the proposal for Te Whare Oki Oki, it is a sorely needed and will be a valuable addition to the council's social portfolio

I am very keen to see Khandallah Pool and Park upgraded. I use several of the Wellington pools all year round and I particularly like the setting of Khandallah Pool. Three generations of my family have enjoyed it this year. Hot showers and upgraded changing rooms would be a minimum requirement. As a summer pool it can be enjoyed unheated(it's a point of difference!) and I enjoy it as it is for most of the summer. But I recognise that heating it would increase the patronage. Thorndon Pool is another lovely old pool which I use when Khandallah is closed and the heating there does make it better in cooler weather. I would hope Khandallah would remain an outdoor pool, with more cutting back of trees for maximum sun.

More funding will be needed for LGWM than what is budgeted at present. This would deliver more benefits than extending the airport runway which is a colossal waste of money. I support the vision of encouraging multi modal transport. Work does need to be done to make it easier for cars to get through the city to the airport and eastern suburbs. However public transport and cycling need to continue to receive investment - these should receive priority during peak hours.

Need way more dedicated cycle lanes, especially some one of the major uphill routes. More and more cyclists on the road recently with electric bikes. Subsidise electric bikes to get more cars off the road. Sort out the traffic congestion problems!

I really prefer to have the Christmas parade back, bring back Guy Fawkes, beautiful non LED lights on the trees at Oriental Parade. No more silly sandpits costing over $10k. No more closing off the roads to "improve" the street by putting plywood seats like Tory Street. It would be nice to provide better family friendly exhibitions and activities for free so people are not prohibited by cost.

More rain shelters over the head in CBD to make it more walkable on wet days, especially from railway station to Lambton Quay, so that ypu can walk to work without getting wet. More free carparks near all train stations. Plant fejoia and other fruit trees at playgrounds and parks to block the wind and provide snacks for children. Use botanical gardens and other parks to grow fruits and vegetables to help homeless people and deprived families. Extend the airport run way to make Wellington airport a proper international airport.

I've been told that this plan includes $1.2M for an upgrade to the Khandallah outdoor pool in 2022 (though in my quick scurry through the Plan I can't find reference to it). I strongly support this commitment. The pool, in its wonderful bush setting, is one of the quirky recreational facilities that make Wellington such a great place to live. It's just as important to keep and nurture the public amenities we've got as it is to build big bright new ones.

I really really support the social housing, rental WOF and supported living ideas. SHAs in particular, but all greenfield developments MUST be done water-sensitive, done in ways that actively grow social cohesion (density done well), and integrated with sustainable transport. Otherwise we're making rods for our own backs in water, transport and social infrastructure terms.

We've got to start rebalancing the city - in terms of what's a reasonable option for short journeys. Any LGWM in particular should first reduce as much of the short-trip, intra-city private car use as possible by giving real choices of efficient modes (mass transit and active travel.) And then, only then, see if it's vital to invest in expanding road capacity. Regional movements - the 65% of the region's workers who commute to Wellington - have to be planned for too, and WCC should push hard for a proper integrated regional transport approach . With a minimum 50-year time horizon. For the CBD, it's vital to make it a pro-people space: double down on universal accessibility, enhanced urban realm, and gradually making it so people neither want nor are able to take indulgent private-car trips (i.e. those not needed for disability reasons) into the CBD. Start implementing the proper movement hierarchy that's been sitting ignored in the Urban Growth Plan!

Wellington needs a strong adaptation and mitigation strategy to cope with climate change. It should lobby central government to help contribute to this since central government debt levels are low and money is currently quite cheap. I support expanding the Wellington Town Belt and this should involve lots of pest control including predator and noxious weeds , particularly Wandering Willie, black berry, gorse, wilding pines and Darwin's Barberry.

Housing should be treated like food safety. If a land lord has a property that makes tenants sick or damages their possessions they should be legally liable for this. Housing in central city should have a be more affordable so more people can walk to work with all the environment and health benefits this creates.

Transport should be based around pedestrians and cyclists. The best cities like Paris, Copenhagen, Tokyo, Kyoto Melbourne, London and New York are good places to be a pedestrian. There is too much irrational hatred of cyclists and cycle ways. A friend of mine has a theory that people in cars get angry at cyclists because, although a big truck and a cyclist can both slow down a car, a car driver can kill a cyclist but not a truck. Hatred of cyclists and cycleways is actually a public safety issue as has been illustrated in the incidents of spreading tacks on the Island Bay cycle way: <https://www.stuff.co.nz/dominion-post/news/101749800/more-tacks-found-scattered-on-island-bay-cycleway> International perspective: <https://www.theguardian.com/lifeandstyle/2015/jul/01/sabotage-and-hatred-what-have-people-got-against-cyclists>

The projects mostly sound reasonable. However the Movie Museum and Convention Centre is an expensive and unnecessary way to store Peter Jackson's stuff. He hasn't made a good movie since The Frighteners and all his recent films are poorly edited and far too long. He doesn't need to be further indulged by the council just because he is rich. It would be better to turn the old Paramount into a movie museum. It has true history and could have a working cinema as part of the attraction.

Wellington should contribute to support the arts to maintain our status as the "Cultural Capital". Avant-garde and experimental art work and music should be especially encouraged. Wellington should be the laboratory of art in Aotearoa. Musicians, writers and artists need to be valued more than sports people for a change. A career in the arts last longer than a delicate, injury prone sports career. The "starving artist" stereotype must be consigned to the dustbin of history. Art and music make life more pleasant to live. New Zealand values sports far too much to the detriment of our happiness as a nation (if your happiness is dependent on how well "your" team does, you are surrendering control of your wellbeing to something you have no control over). Wellington can lead the arts revolution and be an even better place to be.

I strongly support the coastal resilience work associated with the rebuild of the Worser Bay Boating Club. This is an excellent example of Wellington City Council working with a long-standing community organisation (the Worser Bay Boating Club) that is doing its own fundraising to ensure future generations continue to have access to, and develop an appreciation of, our wonderful coastal environment. My company provides financial support to the Argosy Trust's Boat and Beach Wise programme, which is based at Worser Bay. It is great to see WCC working alongside such excellent initiatives.

On housing matters, Wellington City Council has been a leader amongst NZ TLA's. It has weathered the storm of neo-liberalist approaches and kept its own portfolio largely intact. ECC now needs to 'push on' to show how positive Council action can support the augment the private sector when it comes to housing.

Close the zoo down. It's unethical and unnecessary. You can build an entire community of houses and apartments on that land. The animals are not happy either.

Environmental concerns such as the prevention of slips in places such as Ngaio Gorge and the protection and the increase in our water supply are really important. We are going to have more storms not less and prvision and planning needs to be made for these.

It is good to see the Council and the community working to preserve Worsler Bay and the boat club for future generations. We are proud supporters of the Argosy trust, which is helping school children to be safe as they explore our wonderful harbour and coastline. Without the efforts of Council and the wider community, the benefits that those who grew up in this wonderful place will be lost to to our grandchildren.

Similar work to that undertaken along the South Coast, including future proposed coastal defences, should also be carried out at Makara Beach to protect it's coastline and surrounding residential properties. Makara residents are ratepayers also and contribute to this. There are over 15,000 annual visitors to the DOC Makara Walkway and Makara Beach has now been recognised as a international tourist destination by Tourism NZ. On summer weekends there are several hundred visitors from across Wellington who undertake fishing, diving, walking, tramping, swimming and recreational boating as well as the overseas visitors. It is therefore important, and morally right for the Council, to protect the Beach and surrounding community from coastal erosion, particularly as the Council consented to remove shingle and sand dunes several decades ago that otherwise would now be providing protection. Wellingtonians all receive benefit from the Zoo, which we all support financially and there is no burden on the Newtown residents for it's upkeep. Makara Beach is a popular weekend destination, and has been for over 100 years, and therefore the Council and ratepayers should undertake capital works, to protect the coastline and coastal properties from erosion to ensure it remains a great asset to future generations of Wellingtonians.

Fixing the IB cycle way to make it safer for all and cease any further cycle ways in the suburban areas. With the introduction of double decker buses, it won't be long and you'll be upgrading the roads as the current surfaces will fail under the weight. Good luck and plan ahead.

Can you please put in better requirements/restrictions for new apartment buildings to stop the continual building of flats more suited to dog kennels. Please make them more habitable two and three bedrooms etc not the majority of studio and one bedrooms currently favoured. Please create minimum balcony sizes so occupants can actually enjoy some outside time. If you want a livable city, you need to cater for people to LIVE in their apartments. It would also be great to get the train station upgraded.

When considering inner city commercial building conversions to apartment dwelling, consideration should also be given to the rising student population that is struggling to find accommodation. If this is not resolved, Wellington will see a reduction in the number of students internationally or from out of town considering Wellington as a place to study.

Weekend parking fees - these were removed to attract more shoppers to the city and those that had left to shop at the North City and Lower Hutt malls where parking was free. What research has been done to check how residents and retailers feel about the introduction? Where will the parking fees collected go? Lets Get Welly Moving - whilst improvements are visibly being made on SH2 from Upper Hutt and SH1 from Otaki, greater bottle necks are arising in Wellington city and enroute to the airport, and STILL no decisions or improvements to address the issues - please get on with it!

A new convention centre is a key piece of infrastructure that will help create greater economic benefit to the city. This was initially voiced in 2003 and disappointingly continues to be consulted on. With ageing council event venues, Wellington will be in trouble in a few years time when more of their venues are not up to the standards to attract national or international events. Don't wait for the Movie museum folks to sign off, get on and build the convention centre! Then perhaps the indoor arena can closely follow.

Whilst strengthening the arts and cultural facilities, it would be timely to also review their sustainability and any cost efficiencies that could be undertaken at the same time as the closure for strengthening to minimise any further delays to the public performances. For example, replace all fluorescent lights to LEDs, checking the wiring is fit for purpose etc. Arts and Culture is important to the vibrancy and liveability of any international city, but I'd also like to comment that so is Sport and Recreation for residents health and wellbeing. I trust that whilst there is no mention of sport and recreation in this LTP, that there will remain a strong focus on ensuring facilities, parks and sports fields are maintained and improved where necessary

One of the best things about Wellington is it's strong support of people via their built environment. I'm proud that Wellington has the biggest collection of Council Housing in the country, and I want our city to continue to perform in this area. I have enjoyed watching the city restore and upgrade Council housing over the last 10 years, and I want to ensure that this process continues to happen. We also need new Council housing as we do not have enough at present, and we need this designed by good architects, spending decent budgets. DOn't skimp - build well so it lasts!

The LGWM work has been a farce, taking 2-3 years and so far getting precisely nowhere. I'm appalled and pissed off that WCC, NZTA and GWRC have wasted so much time and money and still not really come out with anything. If they end up proposing a Basin Bridge again, I swear I'll scream. You are testing our patience. You know what the city needs and the city wants. While Vicki Greco may not want a cycle-way in Island Bay, that's just tough. She does not own the city. Wellington owns the city - all of us. We NEED cycle ways, we NEED a decent Rapid Transit system. Please: Just Do It.

A focus on encouraging the efficient use of water would help to minimise the amount of additional water capacity that is required, and allow for more growth. The most obvious method would be to provide price signals for the cost to treat and provide drinking water. Typically this is done through water metering, with different charges depending on the amount of water that is consumed. This would provide an incentive to use water efficiently and invest in efficient water-using appliances. It would also provide an incentive to store and use rainwater for non-potable purposes, such as watering gardens and flushing toilets, with the side benefit of increasing household resilience. More efficient use of water would also lead to a reduction in the amount of wastewater to be treated. Stormwater could be better managed through incentivising rainwater storage (providing it is used), encouraging the use of roof gardens (particularly in dense urban areas), and promoting the use of permeable paving. In addition, stormwater retention schemes could be incentivised in new developments to help reduce peak flows in heavy rainfall events.

While I agree that a convention centre is needed, I remain unconvinced that a museum solely focussed on movies is an appropriate investment at this point in time. This seems like an emotional decision rather than a financially based one. Assuming that the museum would mainly focus on movies produced in the greater Wellington region, this is a very small catchment - realistically, the number of movies that are substantially created in Wellington would be small compared to many other centres on the international stage. There is a risk that the museum could end up with a handful of semi-permanent displays of a small number of high profile movies from some years ago.

The Council should look to reduce to landfill waste by investigating incinerating refuse in clean burning furnaces as is done in Europe. Also the Council should look at supporting the recycling of soft plastics via supermarkets by amending its policies to give preference to suppliers of bollards, play ground equipment, and seating made from soft plastics.

The intro about what a good transport system should do sounds great but the new bus routes will not support this. Breaking up peoples' journeys to make them wait in the dark or in inclement weather will encourage people to use cars or in the case of children, women or elderly people, stay home. Putting the correct timetables at suburban bus stops would have been a good way of assisting people to use the bus. But the council didn't bother with any checks or quality control, expecting people to rely on the internet. I've seen people about to walk away from a stop because the incorrect timetable had been displayed. To make things worse, pets will now be allowed on the buses too, with apparently no consideration given to passengers with allergies to animal hair, who will clean up any little "accidents" left by stressed animals, or what will happen if there is an outbreak of fleas across the city (as has happened in Wellington in the past).

The Arts are entertaining and encourage visitors to come to Wellington, but care must be taken to ensure that all proposals stack up in terms of their economic viability and are carefully controlled to ensure that they are implemented in a financially prudent way.

There aren't enough venues for cultural and entertainment shows. Christchurch, and even Dunedin manage to book acts that we can't get here because of the lack of good venues. I think there should be investment to cover that and position Wellington as a destination for big shows.

public bins should be replaced by recycling bins for plastic/paper/waste bins - make is more accessible for the public. all apartment or high-rise buildings should have waste disposal room so that residents do not have to put out their trash on the streets and at the same time make Wellington city look more green and clean.

parking fees on weekend - if implemented, should only apply on Saturdays (not on public holidays and sundays). regarding working on improvement on transport and public spaces etc, we should not forget improving or making it more accessible for the disabled, making spaces more abled for them. currently, there are no tactile paving for the blind for example.

spending so much money on the movie museum and convention centre is silly - that money can be used in other areas that would be of more positive impact, rather than building a huge shrine for Peter Jackson to store his old movie props and Oscars. Strongly do not believe it is a sustainable idea.

Wellington is very sick of plastic bags everywhere particulars supermarkets, WCC must investigate the way and which to minimize because it's what creates huge health problem as well as how to manage its waste. At least WCC to put more tax on it. WCC needs more animals in the zoo like the giraffe, the elephant a lot of unique snakes and more.

Stop punishing people for driving cars by taking away car parks and making it harder to get places. Public transport doesn't work for everyone. I have a business that involves travelling around and it is constantly getting harder because of the WCCs dislike of cars.

Sorry council but I think your priorities are messed up. The island bay cycle way should be fixed, stop building so many cycle ways at such huge costs and stop taking away car parks. Do something to actually help local businesses flourish rather than all these vanity projects (rainbow crossing need I say more?)

I support Social Housing growth. Under current economic conditions, as Wellington population grows, there will be a need for additional social housing units. I do not appreciate that the LTP plan brings in a new focus/mandate of "Affordable" Housing, but does not state what proportion will be Affordable vs Social and if Affordable will be at the expense of Social. It feels there is a blurring of lines here between social and affordable (two entirely different enterprises!) and this blurring is embodied in Question 1. This is why I responded "not sure". Housing Affordability is a failure of the central government (and our current brand of the 'free market' economic system). Local government cannot fix this issue and efforts to do so feel akin to sticking a finger in a dyke hole that is fatally cracked. So, given that WCC will not fix this problem by a mere "750 new builds of affordable and social housing" over the next 10 years, I suspect that "affordable" is being used as a smokescreen to sell public land as short-term financial fix. So, though I do not support WCC entering into the "affordable arena" to "fix" the affordability issue, I do support affordability to create (in certain areas, such as Arlington Redevelopment) a mixed-tenure model. Such a model can create a housing area that is more varied, interesting, and does not have a stigma of being 'social/poor' attached to it. Any affordable housing created in Arlington (or anywhere else in the city) needs to meet these criteria: (1). The publicly owned land is NOT sold! (LEASEHOLD titles would be acceptable with the commonly used 99-year span). (2) There is a robust and proven mechanism to ensure 'affordable' is not just a "one-sale wonder" and thereafter it becomes like the rest of the housing stock -- "un-affordable". RETENTION of Affordability is PARAMOUNT. If this cannot be guaranteed, then WCC should steer clear of creating 'affordable' housing and stick to 'social' housing.

Question 1: "Planning for growth" -- There is a suggestion to make consenting faster/easier -- the current proces I assume is set-up to protect the future home buyers of shoddy, ill-considered property development, as well as protect the city from future lawsuits and liability. So, I am loathe to make consenting and compliance "easier and faster". It feels that is a euphemism for "less rigorous". Making consenting "easier and faster" should simply be a part of continuous improvement and not require comment on a LTP. So that is why I believe a euphemism is being used. Council must not sacrifice short-term gain for the long-term. Hence the reason I answered that question "Oppose".

Earthquake prone or damaged buildings should not be paid for by council or rates.Shelly Bay is a property development and the developer should pay for the improvements in this location. The very large majority of Rate payers will get no benefit from council investment in services in this area.

What happened to 4 lanes to the airport? It is ridiculous that sh1 has about 8 traffic lights thru the centre of town. Sh1 needs to be raised/ lowered to remove the tiny intersecting streets and traffic lights in the cbd. If a tunnel they Mt Victoria is to expensive, then a road over the top of Mt Victoria in the vicinity of the hospital should be an option to reconnect with sh1 near kilbernie. Must of this land is reserve land so available. This will give many more options for people travelling to the hospital, newtown, kilbernie, miramar and airport. Will also join up close to where existing 4 lane roads are.This is a Major priority.

Page 41 of the 10 year plan lists two priorities: Earthquake strengthening of cultural facilities and expanding the reach of festivals and events - I support both. But the 10 plan has a glaring omission. I ask WCC to consider including the following wording as point three on this page and then developing it in subsequent pages." Developing our role as the Capital City and seat of Government in New Zealand. Wellington is the home of our national collections, national arts organisations, and as the capital city is custodian of our national identity. It is also home of the embassies from around the world, our link to international arts and cultures globally. Our capital city plays a vital role in the arts and cultural fabric of our country and underpins much of the arts and culture brand of our city. " Apart from colloquially referring to the 'Capital of Culture' (we sometimes also refer to the 'events capital,' cafe capital' etc) the 10 year plan make no reference at all to the fact we are the nation's capital city. This is surprising as it is ultimately our ONLY truly significant point of difference in New Zealand. We cannot compete with Auckland on scale. We must look to our unique strengths and value them. It seems unthinkable we would choose to omit our capital status from our planning framework. As a city we are uniquely placed to develop our relationship with Central Government on a wide range of issues. Recent events Christchurch (earthquakes) Hawke's Bay (water)

Edgecumbe (floods) and other areas demonstrate that a good working relationship between central and local government is vital to all major cities and towns. Recent successes in Wellington such as Pukeahu War Memorial Park, the Cenotaph development and the Capital 150 Birthday celebrations demonstrate arts and cultural success through a good partnership with central government. At the moment, if the plan was read by someone who knew nothing of New Zealand, they would be hard pressed to see we are the capital city. That makes 'Towards 2040: Smart Capital' a contradiction. If we carry the capital message in the headline - we should carry it through in the plan. What are the Council's 10 year strategies to develop our role as New Zealand's Capital City?

Add Makara estuary and beach to coastal resilience priorities with emphasis on restoration of natural habitat and defenses. Estuary is the only surviving salt water wetlands in WCC area, habitat for migratory birds and important for indigenous whitebait species. Predation by humans on this environment is extreme and increasing as numbers of visitors grow. Restoration of natural storm beach (get vehicles off it) and sand dunes, replanting vegetation on coastal hills and gullies, control of run off from residential and farm properties to protect beach and wetlands and restore natural storm defenses that mitigate storm surges, control number of visitors by restricting parking.

A very small percentage of the cities total number of residents cycle in and out of the city and cyclists in bus lanes just hold up public transport. Most of our roads are unsuitable for conversion. Much larger numbers of residents need better, faster, more environmentally safe public transport. Put the investment into that. Tag cycling under Recreation.

Wellington is known world-wide for being a walkable city. Transport initiatives must factor this into plans. Too much focus on cycles can make the city unattractive for walking and potentially hazardous. A significant proportion of the population cannot be expected to cycle - age, health status, topography of the area where they live. Aged 75 I will never bike from Khandallah to the city but I will walk

Generation Zero would like Wellington City Council to endorse the Zero Carbon Act.

Generation Zero's Submission to the Long Term Plan

Who are We?

Generation Zero is part of a movement that want to see action on climate change. We are excited to be submitting to the Wellington City Council Long Term Plan and thank you for giving us the opportunity.

Our Ask

Climate change is a significant issue that will affect Wellington and will have a large effect on the City's responsibilities.

A plan to address climate change is required and we believe that the upcoming Zero Carbon Act is this Plan. The Zero Carbon Act is out for consultation in May/June and we are asking local government to endorse/support the Act.

We have three questions to ask Wellington City Council;

- Is Council concerned about climate change?
- Does Council think a Plan is required to address climate change?
- Doe Council think the Zero Carbon Act is this plan?

If yes, we would like the Wellington City Council and its elected members to endorse the Zero Carbon Act.

For the Zero Carbon Act to effectively hold present and future governments accountable Local Government needs to endorse the Act to show that is is serious about Climate Change.

Endorsing the Act could be through a Council vote then a press release/submission on the consultation process.

What is the Zero Carbon Act

The Zero Carbon Act is Aotearoa's best plan for climate change. The Act addresses long term climate issues through short and long-term goals. The Act will set up a Climate Commission which will recommend these short and long terms goals and give us a plan on how they can be achieved.

We have attached a summary of the Zero Carbon Act to this document.

We would like to be heard on our submission

Summary Paper

This document is a summary of the Zero Carbon Act blueprint released in April 2017.
Explore the full blueprint at www.zerocarbonact.nz

The Zero Carbon Act will drive meaningful climate change action in New Zealand. The Act will commit New Zealand to zero carbon by 2050 or sooner, set a legally binding pathway to this target, and require the Government to make a plan.

Climate change is a pressing global crisis that is already impacting on our homes and livelihoods. The planet has warmed by around 1°C since pre-industrial times, mainly due to human greenhouse gas emissions. The world has agreed that we must limit warming to well below 2°C, and aim for below 1.5°C. This requires global CO₂ emissions to reach net zero by early in the second half of the century, along with deep cuts in other greenhouse gas emissions.

All countries must undergo their own transition to a zero carbon society. While many other countries are reducing their emissions, New Zealand's continue to rise. There is no plan to meet existing national targets. The longer we delay our own transition, the more costly it will be. We also miss out on the many benefits and opportunities of early action.

Climate change is bigger than politics - we need political parties to work together and look beyond election cycles. Getting to zero carbon by 2050 or sooner is possible. It will require broad political commitment, immediate action, and coherent long-term planning. A clear and stable path will help New Zealand businesses and citizens plan for their future and invest with confidence in low-carbon solutions.

The Zero Carbon Act is an idea for a powerful new law to get our country on the right track. It is based on a proven concept: the UK's 2008 Climate Change Act. The UK Act has cross-party support and has been adopted in several other countries. The Zero Carbon Act will pursue three key objectives:

1. Getting us to zero carbon

The Act will commit New Zealand to zero carbon by 2050 or sooner, and drive a fair and cost-effective transition. The Government must set binding five-year 'carbon budgets' well in advance, and produce credible plans to meet these budgets.

We propose two key changes from the UK Act to suit New Zealand's circumstances:

- The Two Baskets Approach
The Act will set separate targets and pathways for long-lived greenhouse gases (mainly carbon dioxide and nitrous oxide) and short-lived greenhouse gases (mainly methane). Long-lived gases must go to net zero by 2050 or sooner (accounting for carbon sinks). Short-lived gases must be significantly reduced to sustainable levels, but not zero.
- The Firewall Principle
The targets in the Act will apply to New Zealand's domestic emissions only. This will create a 'firewall' between domestic action and international carbon trading, to ensure our own zero carbon transition is on track.

Key elements:

- Legally binding long-term targets
- Pathway of five-year carbon budgets
- Independent Climate Commission to guide the transition
- Government must produce policy plans to meet carbon budgets

Climate Commission

The Zero Carbon Act will establish an independent Climate Commission, consisting of 6 - 10 experts appointed by Parliament. The Commission has two main functions:

- 1) providing expert advice on targets, policies and climate risks;
- 2) holding the Government to account.

Principles

The Act will ensure New Zealand's zero carbon transition is fair and cost-effective. The Act will honour Te Tiriti o Waitangi. The Government must take into account a range of factors when setting carbon budgets, including environmental and social impacts, business competitiveness and intergenerational equity.

2. Adapting to our changing climate

The Act will also ensure a comprehensive national response to the impacts of climate change. Even if we limit global warming to less than 1.5°C, New Zealand faces significant challenges from rising seas, more frequent extreme weather events and other impacts.

Key elements:

- National Climate Risk Assessment prepared every five years with expert input from the Climate Commission
- Adaptation Programme produced to address the identified climate risks

3. Supporting global climate action

Finally, the Act will ensure New Zealand delivers on its international climate change obligations in a transparent manner. New Zealand has duties under the Paris Agreement to support mitigation and adaptation in developing countries, such as low-lying Pacific states.

Key elements:

- Annual reports (covering international carbon trading, climate finance, technology transfer and capacity building)

A simple overview of the Zero Carbon Act's key elements:

	Legal framework
	Binding targets	Climate Commission	Transparent planning and reporting
Domestic mitigation	✓	✓	✓
Domestic adaptation	✗	✓	✓
International contributions	✗	✗	✓

The Zero Carbon Act framework is uniquely suited to cross-party agreement. It sets out legally-mandated outcomes and process, without prescribing specific policies. It combines long-term clarity on policy direction with flexibility in its delivery.

The Zero Carbon Act is a proposal developed by Generation Zero with support from other organisations and individuals. Go to www.zerocarbonact.nz to explore our detailed blueprint, tell us what you think, and get involved in the campaign.

If the logic is to get people out of cars and onto foot, bikes, public transport it needs to get going consistently. Don't build infrastructure that encourages more cars to go into the inner city. While trying to get footpaths and cycleways at the same time. Congestion zone charging may be more sustainable than increasing parking.

The convention centre bubble is bursting worldwide and in the future travel to conventions should be reducing as should the attraction of museums that could celebrate digital achievements by digital/virtual means. The livability of Wellington is a better long term investment than tourism. Are we paying attention to Venice, Barcelona, Aspen and Queenstown where the tourism focus leads to a low wage economy using a labour force who can not afford housing in the community they work in?

Submission to Wellington City Council on Ten-Year Plan Consultation

Thank you for the opportunity to give our thoughts on the future direction of Wellington City Council.

Dwell Housing Trust

Dwell is a registered community housing provider (CHP) with a long track record of providing and developing quality homes in Wellington. We provide affordable housing for people on low incomes or in need. Building on our wealth of experience gained over 30-year as a housing provider, we provide a range of services including:

- Social and affordable housing for people in need or on low incomes
- Supportive housing for people with other needs such as mental illness and intellectual disabilities
- A shared home ownership programme for first home buyers
- We also manage homes for other organisations.

We are more than a landlord as we ensure our residents have access to the support they need, and want, to live well, be well and do well.

Ten Year Plan

Housing is one of the five priority investment areas identified by the Wellington City Council, and we commend the Council for recognising and gazetting its importance. We at the Dwell would strongly argue that it is a fundamental issue that requires some courageous, unequivocal action if the Council is to make a significant impact on the housing situation the city finds itself in.

The Council very laudably proposes “to take a more active role to avoid an Auckland style housing crisis in Wellington”. We would observe that the current reality is that right now there is a housing crisis for many families who are currently seeking a house but cannot find one to suit their needs. The current Ministry of Social Development (MSD) waiting list tells a sorry story:

There were 756 applications on the MSD social housing register for the Wellington region at 31 December 2017 and in Wellington City:

Priority A = 222

Priority B = 70

Total = 292

Therefore we totally support the Council’s intention to more actively manage its land and housing portfolio for the benefit of those with a housing need in our community. We support the Strategic Housing Investment Programme and the Housing Strategy, and the allocation of money to make progress in this area. Dwell is therefore fully behind Option 1. Only by growing the supply of housing available will the current situation be improved.

Our submission

We wish to add to the Plan by asking WCC to consider the following:

- introducing inclusionary zoning
- developing a vision and plan for working with community housing providers.

Inclusionary zoning

We would point out that there is solid evidence that the Council would certainly “get more bangs for its buck” if it judiciously utilised some of the tactics that have successfully been used in other housing jurisdictions to secure or leverage affordable housing through the planning and urban development process. We are referring to inclusionary planning approaches whereby local authorities use planning systems to create affordable housing.

A spectrum of inclusionary planning models has been successfully made use of in Australia. These include:

- inclusionary zoning, where development within a designated zone contributes towards affordable housing according to a fixed formula
- density bonuses, where additional development potential is offered in return for an affordable housing contribution
- planning concessions, where planning rules are varied for affordable housing development or to enable low-cost market housing
- negotiated agreements, where affordable housing contributions are negotiated on a case-by-case basis, possibly within a policy framework
- impact fees, where financial contributions from developers are paid to offset the impact of a project on affordable housing demand or supply.

It is reported that research on inclusionary housing practice in both the US and UK shows that schemes gain traction over time, that private developers accept inclusionary requirements when they are known in advance and levied in a consistent way.

We note that councils have a choice between mandatory affordable housing requirements and voluntary, market-enabling approaches, which are guided by different principles. The mandatory approach seeks to improve affordable housing supply by embedding requirements within the process of land rezoning, with the cost being borne by landholders, rather than developers. The voluntary approach tries to ensure that affordable housing requirements are not seen as a land or development cost but that incentives operate to encourage residential development overall while including affordable and social housing in particular. Our support would be for a mandatory approach.

Working with CHPs

We totally support the priority being proposed for housing initiatives. We think the Mayor’s Housing Taskforce expressed things very accurately almost a year ago in June 2017 when it recommended:

- In partnership with Central Government and CHPs increase the number of social units in the city to support the needs of the most vulnerable, and
- Support the growth in capacity and capability of the CHP sector, which is required to move towards a system change that enables CHPs to deliver social housing at scale.

It is now time for action on these recommendation. WCC and Housing New Zealand cannot meet the needs of Wellington’s low and moderate-income earners alone, nor those in need of affordable rentals or pathways into home ownership. CHPs are needed to meet housing need along the housing continuum and Dwell needs to play a larger role than they do currently. We believe to facilitate the growth of CHPs in Wellington WCC needs to support the development of a clear vision with the role of each provider articulated and a plan for working together.

We have the flexibility to provide a range of solutions and services, respond effectively to local housing needs, and utilise the goodwill of the wider community. Our focus is not just social housing for those in the most need. We want to be able to provide more affordable rental and more home ownership programmes.

Some ways WCC and CHPs can work together is by any land or properties that have been agreed as surplus should be offered to nominated and registered CHPs for the provision of affordable housing. The land should also be sold to CHPs on terms and conditions that facilitate affordable housing. Dwell and WCC already have a successful example of how we can work together to create more homes. Dwell purchased surplus WCC land and built four homes on it – two shared home ownership homes for first home buyers and two social housing homes. We are keen to explore more opportunities to repeat this model.

There are examples from other councils in NZ that WCC should be looking to. Queenstown Lakes District Council have taken action to improve housing affordability in their area by selling land to their local CHP and also requiring developers to contribute. One of the things they do is sell the land for the value it is when zoned as open space. This recognises that the increase in price when land is rezoned to residential should not be a gain to their Council alone. They view it as a gain that can be used by the local CHP for public good.

The other way that WCC can facilitate Dwell and other CHPs to do more is by waiving development contributions for new homes built by CHPs for people in housing need. Christchurch City Council is the latest Council in NZ to do this. We refer WCC to <https://www.ccc.govt.nz/consents-and-licences/development-contributions/development-contributions-rebate-schemes/> We ask that WCC consider a similar policy here in Wellington for registered CHPs.

We feel there is still some clarity needed about the role Dwell can play and the types of housing we can provide. There are many ways we can work together and we would like to be able to explore these with WCC.

Dwell Housing Trust stands fully prepared to engage in a supportive way with the Wellington City Council to advance the laudable aims of the priority investment in housing.

I strongly believe in incentivising people to use public transport over cars, for which the buses need to run on time, be less crowded at peak time, and with a ticket price that is lower than parking fees in the city. The focus needs to be not on profits of the private companies running the bus routes, but on providing a great reliable service and paying the drivers a fair salary.

What is proposed in very good but the apparent emphasis on the 'new', 'sexy' Predator Free Wellington and Community-led trapping seems to overlook the crucial importance of habitat for native flora and fauna. I would like to see greater recognition of this in the LTP and and greater recognition and support for the wider endeavour of Community-led ecological restoration which is being carried out by many groups throughout the City.I consider that the emphasis on maintaining GDP (economic) growth is counter-productive. What most of us want is employment, good health, good housing, a healthy environment, a vibrant city, etc. GDP is a poor proxy for these outcomes and can have undesired effects in terms of them. I consider that the emphasis should be on achieving the outcomes, not on GDP: if we are achieving the desired outcomes and GDP grows, fine; if we are achieving the desired outcomes and GDP doesn't grow, who cares?

Wellington City Council Draft Long-Term Plan 2018-2028

1 Submission on Long-Term Plan

- 1.1 Wellington City Council (WCC) has prepared a consultation document on the Council's Long-Term Plan. This consultation identifies arts and culture as one of five focus areas for Council, including a proposed Decade of Culture.

2 Wellington Regional Art & Cultural Development Trust (Arts Wellington)

- 2.1 The Wellington Regional Art & Cultural Development Trust (Arts Wellington) is a charitable trust formed in 2005, growing out of the desire for Wellington's numerous arts organisation to become more collaborative and connected.
- 2.2 Today Arts Wellington's membership consists of most of the Greater Wellington region's professional arts, culture and heritage organisations, arts service organisations and education institutions.
- 2.3 Working alongside organisations, each with its own business objectives, Arts Wellington's focus is on building capability, cross-sector collaboration and strategic development of Wellington's arts audience.
- 2.4 Advocacy to key supporters and stakeholders, in the interests of building a robust arts ecosystem and maintaining open channels of communication, is also core to the work of Arts Wellington.
- 2.5 This submission is prepared by the Arts Wellington board, following a presentation by Mayor Lester and Cr Young and a workshop with members, and aims to present the relevant shared views of the Arts Wellington membership.

3 Scope of submission

- 3.1 The arts and culture ecosystem underpins many aspects of Wellington's wellbeing as a city – from economic development to social identity to resilience. However this submission is focused on initiatives, plans and changes specifically relating to the arts sector.

4 Broad support for Decade of Culture / Creativity proposal

- 4.1 The Arts Wellington board supports WCC's desire to retain and enhance Wellington's reputation as New Zealand's 'Capital of Culture'.
- 4.2 The Arts Wellington board supports Option 1 and the proposed increase of levels of service through completion of scheduled earthquake-strengthening for buildings such as the St James, and the reallocation of funds from existing budgets to expand the reach of major events and festivals.
- 4.3 We tautoko the commitment given by the Mayor in our April workshop with Arts Wellington members that local organisations will be supported through any increase of funding and that no current funding will be lost.
- 4.4 However, the board notes that this funding is allocated from existing budgets and does not indicate new, or longer term, funding for the arts in the WCC budget. Maintenance of current funding year by year is in effect an erosion of funding over the long-term as it does not take into consideration rising costs/inflation.

4.5 The LTP, as currently set out, does not provide a vision for a Decade of Culture or a capital of culture. It shows a modest level of investment into event programming and capital projects (excluding the Movie Museum and Convention Centre) which is necessary work, but part of existing programmes. While the board supports this investment, we believe that these measures alone are unlikely to reinforce (or regain) Wellington's reputation as Aotearoa's cultural capital.

4.6 Therefore, the board recommends that the proposal laid out in the LTP be viewed as year one of a dynamic and evolving 10 year plan, hinging on a redeveloped Arts & Culture Strategy (see 7 below), with the power to be transformative for the city, its residents and visitors by 2028.

5 Toi Pōneke

5.1 The board notes that the lease term for Toi Pōneke expires in 2020 and wishes to emphasise the importance of a facility such as Toi Pōneke in nurturing smaller and emergent groups and independent practitioners in Wellington's arts environment.

5.2 The board encourages WCC to continue working with Toi Pōneke users and the wider arts community over the next two years to determine whether the facilities and location of Toi Pōneke are appropriate, or whether a better location is available to support a flourishing arts environment in the CBD.

6 Cost and access to venues

6.1 The board has been pleased to see moves by WREDA to make access to venues more affordable for local groups.

6.2 There remains a high level of concern amongst a number of our members around the operational detail of the reopened Town Hall, and we would look forward to the opportunity of working with WCC to ensure a smooth relationship between hirers and permanent occupants.

6.3 We reiterate the need for Council to maintain open dialogue with the arts sector around the accessibility and affordability of its venues, and ensure the sector is a strong voice in all future planning and decision-making.

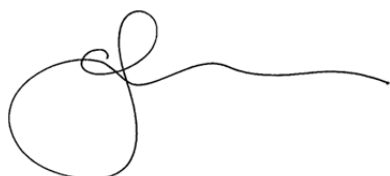

7 It is time to update the Arts & Culture Strategy

7.1 WCC's Arts & Culture Strategy has not been updated since 2011. A strong and relevant strategy is required to guide continued investment and shape the Decade of Culture programme, and to ensure Wellington's arts and culture sector is working alongside Council to achieve our shared goals.

7.2 We advocate that the Strategy sit within a Creative City Strategy led by WREDA and WCC, bringing tech, innovation, education and the broader creative industries into the fold.

7.3 We welcome the opportunity to collaborate with WCC on updating the strategy, bringing our knowledge of and access to our members into the process.

The New Zealand Portrait Gallery Te P ũkenga Whakaata strongly supports the Wellington City Council's prioritisation of investment in arts and culture ũto maintain our position internationally as a vibrant, edgy capital ũ. By attracting over 30,000 visitors a year the Portrait Gallery plays an important role in contributing to the city's reputation as a world-class arts locality that visitors, both from New Zealand and overseas, want to visit, and locals want to participate in. We strongly support the Council's long-term vision for the city to be ũan inclusive place where talent wants to live. ũ The Portrait Gallery is accessible by being free, centrally located and providing approachable exhibitions and supporting activities for different groups. The Portrait Gallery also provides opportunities and employment for professional and emerging gallery staff, artists, interns and volunteers. There are calls from our sector for a renewal of policy and strategy to help Wellington to focus on its broader creative industries, we lend our support to this. Strengthening cultural facilities The Portrait Gallery strongly supports the Council's proposal to make this a Decade of Culture to ũemphasise and enhance the city's unique creative strengths. ũ We note however, that most of what is being proposed under this initiative is not new spend, but existing capital improvement projects. We believe the Council should extend capex budgets to include ongoing improvements to make the best use of Council's heritage buildings like ours. The Draft Plan notes that the Council has been investing in and supporting the cultural sector for years. The Portrait Gallery has benefitted from this, and is grateful for the interest and support from the Council. Through Wellington Waterfront Ltd, it contributed to the Portrait Gallery's purchase in 2010 of the long term lease we have on Shed 11; we were also grateful to the Council for strengthening our current building to 85% of the building code in 2012, and for assisting with some of the refurbishment done at that time. However, our current facility is not fit-for purpose and requires ongoing investment to meet demands for high quality experiences to remain competitive internationally. Crucial to our ability to tell the stories of the people of New Zealand is our ability to borrow significant works of art from other national institutions, like Te Papa and the Alexander Turnbull Library. Shed 11 will need to be further upgraded to maintain display standards necessary for fragile works of art. We also face perennial issues such as a lack of exhibition, work, office and storage space. We would like to see some portion of the proposed capital expenditure budget invested in our Council-owned heritage building to increase the potential for us to grow our contribution to the city and its waterfront cultural attractions and events. The Council's focus on staging events to bring people into the city, only highlights the need for attractive high-quality venues in which those events can take place. Shed 11 needs ongoing investment to continue being attractive as an exhibition and events venue. We strongly support the goal for Wellington to be a city with a dynamic centre – a place of creativity, exploration and innovation. We have seen internationally the value of creating precincts that attract attention and people. We are in a unique position to build, with our neighbours, a museums precinct at the North end of the waterfront. We need Council's help to lead this and would like to be part of the planning around the $13.1 million investment tagged for waterfront renewals. Additional support for the arts We support the Council's proposal to redirect existing economic grant funding towards cultural events and festivals to boost the city's profile as a cultural destination. The Council's arts investment is heavily weighted towards investment in the performing arts. We would like to see the Council ensuring it provides a balance across all art forms and factor in the visual arts and galleries as an important part of the sector. As a portrait gallery we are especially well placed to fulfill the Council's objective of 'telling our story to the world.' Investment in arts and cultural projects We strongly support the previously agreed additional $195,000 to the Arts and Culture Fund over the next 10 years for important arts organisations with 3-year funding contracts. Additional funds for existing organisations, will help us to lift quality and grow. The Portrait Gallery has been consistently achieving over the targets set for its contract. However, we are receiving significantly less than other organisations of comparable size and significance. Currently, the Portrait Gallery receives only 5% of its operating budget from the Council and none from central Government. Wellington and its reputation as the cultural capital of New Zealand, benefits greatly from the presence of national arts organisations, such as ours. Although the Portrait Gallery has a national view and identity, Wellington is our natural home. The Council have an objective to provide funds to leverage what is already existing in Wellington. Support of the Portrait Gallery leverages substantial private investment. We currently fundraise 95% of our over $300,000 operating budget from private sources. This is a huge task for a small organisation, especially in the current climate of limited corporate involvement and declining patronage from younger generations. We would hope the Council would make provision to enable an increase to our funding when our contract is renewed in FY2018/2019.

We request that WCC notes the contribution Enviroschools are making to these goals, including that 99% of Enviroschools in the Wellington region are taking action on waste, and 90% are taking actions relating to biodiversity restoration and biosecurity. We emphasise the importance of strong education programmes around zero waste and Predator Free (in the context of broader education around biodiversity) alongside the investment in infrastructure and resources. We are also seeing increasing demand for secondary schools to join our programme around the region and in Wellington City in particular. This is particularly from students who have attended Enviroschools at primary and potentially ECE level and want to continue their sustainability journey and action. In line with our regional strategy goal we would like to be able to cater to this demand, and see incredible potential in secondary school students building on their sustainability knowledge and skills and contributing to community outcomes. In relation to predator control, it is vitally important that while this is a good focus, that investments should not be at the expense of broader biodiversity outcomes across the city, including the need for weed control, biodiversity enhancement, water quality, and habitat and species protection.

We support Option 1 to increase levels of service. We emphasise the importance of ensuring that the cycling infrastructure specifically caters for children and young people, and that council looks at ways to reduce single vehicle occupancy trips to and from school. We also consider positive marketing and community initiatives will be an important way of increasing cycling across the city. We support reference to education underpinning the Let's Get Wellington Moving strategy on page 30 of the LTP. In relation to this, 36% of the EnviroSchools in the Wellington region are taking action on sustainable transport. Over the next few years, we would like our EnviroSchools to increase their actions and learning on sustainable transport. To support this, we will be publishing a new active travel resource later this year in partnership with Greater Wellington Regional Council, which includes holding teacher and student workshops.

Comments:

Give more priority to recreation areas, including upgrades and maintenance, and hopefully more green open space in our urban environment. Like Frank Kitts upgrade and a transformation of Kent Terrace? With more people living in the city, we need more places to play outdoors, and more big picture ideas for the 10 year plan, which is only going to attract more people to live in the best little capital

It is not that I oppose certain areas of improvement, but some of the areas being given priority in this plan is silly. Culture and arts is an important part of wellington's identity, but we have major transport, housing and environmental needs that must be addressed and deserve attention before consideration of other cultural areas. Would also like to add that the absolute force for what seems to be turning into a city-wide cycling network is getting out of hand. There is not a great enough population of cyclists for cycle lanes to be replacing car parks (as they will be around evans bay) and I do not think they encourage cyclists. We live in a city of hills, think a little more practically, that money can be better spent.

The are between Aro valley and Devon Street is an old tip - Full of broken glass & metal.Much of this is quite old and potentially a museum/ recycling depot could well be made simply showing off some of the better bottles/ machinery that are bound to be found if it is dug out carefully.There is a major cleanup required whether it is made into town belt or not.If a track is to go through, it will be dangerous until this clean-up is done.

Who's arts and culture are you investing in?Borrowing money to cater for international artists implies a lack of faith in the local arts & culture, I think both residents and visitors to Wellington should be encouraged to invest their time and money in local artists rather than (potentially council funded) succesful international artists.Just sayin'

I'd like to see some mechanism in place to ensure that the cost of essential upgrades to bring private rental homes up to the required standard for a warrant of fitness is met by the owner and not simply passed onto tenants. I'd also like to see more detail on how the council proposes to develop the "connected communities" described in the Wellington Housing Strategy.

I don't think that WCC should be in the housing business. They should stick to their core functions - that of infrastructure!The concern regarding "the homeless" is an incredibly complex issue and I don't think Local Government should be stepping on the toes of what are Central Government matters.

I don't believe that the current push on cycles is the answer to Wellington's transport woes. I believe there is a balance required. I am particularly in support of cheap and regular public transport. Technology is moving and changing at such a rapid pace I think we need to plan very carefully and cautiously. Electric cars are becoming more affordable - and I can see the likes of electric and driver less Uber vehicles coming very soon - but then of course we would need highly developed sensory pads under all our roads.

We are a small compact city and our infrastructure isn't up to scratch. In sensible planning for an "influx" of more people this needs very careful planning and co-ordination. It needs a "clear vision" and I believe it should be worked thru with the other Councils of the greater Wellington region!

Comments:

Listen very carefully to your constituents as many at present are very unhappy with the WCC and the way it is operating. Genuine consultation and engagement with communities (rather than highly organised lobby groups) is imperative as people are just giving up as we are feeling very 'silenced' and our opinions undervalued.

Paying for parking over the weekend may be a disincentive to travel to the city. How about go ahead with parking fees but make public transport free or at low cost so that people can use public transport instead of taking cars into the city on weekends.
