RESOLVED:

THAT Council:

055/09C PRESENTATION OF APW AWARD
(1215/11/IM)

(Councillor Cook joined the meeting at 5.36pm.)

NOTED:

Mayor Prendergast shared the following with the meeting for the APW Award being presented to Denis and Verna Adam.

“For decades Denis and Verna Adam have been among the leading lights in artistic circles in the arts and culture capital of New Zealand.

Their role in supporting the arts and encouraging artists in Wellington goes far beyond what might commonly be thought of as patronage. Their approach has been governed by a desire to serve what is now something of an old-fashioned concept, the public good.

It is not art for arts sake, which the architect Frank Lloyd Wright called “a philosophy of the well-fed”. Their backing for the arts has a purpose.

As they sort through the many requests for help that they receive, they are driven by an ambition to encourage the artists of the future, to lay the ground from which the next generation can launch their careers.

Denis and Verna created the Adam Foundation in 1975 to manage their growing collection of objets d'art. But it became apparent that the foundation could do much more, and gradually its activities extended to support of the arts in general.

Its focus has always been on emerging artists, and centred on Wellington, none more so than when it stepped in to support the NZSO and National Youth Orchestra. The orchestra fitted the Adam philosophy to a tee. It met in Wellington with the aim of giving young musicians the incomparable experience of rehearsing and performing in a large orchestra.

When its future was threatened, the Adam Foundation gave it a new lease of life. It later attracted secondary funding from the New Zealand Community Trust, and now those young musicians get the extra experience of travelling to Auckland and Christchurch. Not just because of Denis and Verna, but without them giving their support at the time they were needed it is unlikely to have happened.

In terms of their interests, Denis and Verna are a renaissance couple – music, visual arts, drama and literature all benefit from their support. Their projects include the Adam Art Gallery and the Adam Concert Room at Victoria University of Wellington, the Adam Foundation Prize for Creative Writing, the Adam Portraiture Award and Exhibition, the Adam Chamber Music Festival and the Adam International Cello Competition.

Mr and Mrs Adam also fund Playmarket's Adam Playreading series at Downstage Theatre, giving many writers their first public airing, as well as providing funds for an extensive number of individuals and one-off events.

They provide study grants in a range of fields – curatorial skills, play writing, singing, conducting, violin, saxophone and more. They have commissioned music for the libretti of Wellingtonian Jeremy Commons, helping build a repertoire of chamber operas with the music of Dorothy Buchanan and John Drummond.

They are unstinting supporters of the New Zealand Portrait Gallery. They are major contributors to the refurbishment of Wellington City Gallery.

Denis and Verna are not only helping to preserve and celebrate our heritage, they are helping create the heritage which future generations will enjoy. Many artists have cause to thank them; in years to come many more will owe them a great debt. As we in the audience will, and our children and grandchildren.

Pablo Picasso, who knew about these things, said: "Art washes away from the soul the dust of everyday life."

In thanks for, and recognition of their part in keeping Wellington's soul free from dust, it gives me very great pleasure to present this Absolutely Positively Wellingtonian award to Denis and Verna Adam."
